

Greetings,

After living in our house for approximately eight years, we discovered that our "wood product" siding was failing. We were shocked to say the least, and dismayed at the prospect of needing to replace it. For us, as with a good deal of folks out there, the cost of replacing the siding was not exactly pocket change which made the scenario even more daunting. Finances aside, we knew that quality work was imperative as we did not want to repeat the process again ten years down the road.

We met with a number of potential siding contractors, but IDB was the standout for their knowledge, experience and fair price. Communication was great from the beginning, and our questions were always responded to promptly. The installers worked with skill and rhythm that was actually fun to watch.

Overall, hiring IDB allowed us to sit back and enjoy the process of giving our house a face lift. The difference the new siding makes is amazing - the house has been totally transformed into a clean, fresh, brand new looking home! Though many months have passed since the completion of the job, we are still trilled with the results every time we pull into our own driveway.

Best Regards,
Denise and Eric Bosserman
